PERSONAL PROFILE

For most of my life, I have been fascinated by the field of medicine and my last two years of college allowed me to explore the business sector as well. After graduating with honors from UCLA, I moved up to San Francisco to work as an Associate Consultant at a healthcare consulting firm. As an aspiring physician (MD/MBA/MPH) with an extensive medical background and strong management skills, I will be able to become a doctor who runs healthcare entrepreneurship ventures on the side that benefit not just the elite, but people of limited means who have nowhere to turn to for help. I am also interested in higher level hospital management, running multiple hospitals one day and impacting lives in my community and beyond.
